

Code of Conduct:

Institution has a prescribed code of conduct for students, teachers, administrators and other staff members which is communicated to the students in the college and also through institution's website.

In the beginning of session in B.Ed. stream orientation programmes is being organized by the college authorities. Through this programme newly admitted students are oriented by subject teachers. Whole syllabus and their prospectus is being discussed in the multipurpose hall of the college. Students are being informed about their theory as well as practical aspect viz sessional work and project work. Time table is being exhibited and students are oriented about their regular class work as well as practical aspect of their B.Ed. course.

Moral, ethical and spiritual values are being inculcated in our students during conduction of Morning assembly and regular yogic classes are being conducted through which students are being trained in different yogic exercises .

Various committees have been framed in which two students and one faculty member has been nominated and these committees work in tandem with code of conduct.
